RANDOLPH-MACON IS OVERWHELMED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, D. C., October 4.—Georgetown, overwhelmed Randolph-Macon in the opening game of the local collegiate season to-day, scoring 43 points, while the visitors struggled in vain to make headway.
Randolph-Macon, according to its coach, played way below its standard in all departments. The men had possession of the ball but four times in thirty minutes of play, and in each instance held it less than a minute.
Captain Costello played his usual brilliant game for the locals at quarterback. He used excellent judgment in running off his plays, and gained more ground than all of the other backs combined. In the second period he went through the entire visiting team for a spectacular run and a touchdown. Three of the six touchdowns resulted from forward passes which Georgetown seems to have mastered.

WIND UP TRAINING FOR GREAT SERIES

American League Champions Recently Given Easy Time by Mack.

ORR ONLY PLAYER INJURED

Collins and Baker May Not Be Allowed to Play if They Write for Newspapers.

Philadelphia, October 4.—The Philadelphia Athletics, the new American League champions, virtually wound up their training for the world's series in the game with the New York Highlanders to-day. For the first time in the last three seasons that his team has won the championship, Manager Mack did not put his players through a severe course of preparation. In 1910 and 1911, the Athletics were driven hard in the week before the world's series by playing games with an all-star team of American League players.

An entirely different course was adopted by Mack this fall. After the pennant was clinched on September 22, he started to ease up on his regulars. This week he gave all of his stars a lay-off and sent a team of youngsters and veterans to Washington. The regulars got back into the game Thursday. The game that day was cut short by rain after four and one-half innings of play. On Friday it was cold, and Mack used his best men only in the first game of a double-header. To-day the stars were taken out after playing five innings.
Barring Orr, who broke a bone in his hand Friday, there are no serious injuries in the camp so far as is known. Unless something unforeseen occurs, this will be the first world's series in which Mack will have his team intact. Coombs, the only member of the team who could have been depended on if in condition, will not be available for duty. The once great twirler, who has never recovered from an attack of typhoid fever last spring, was not counted on in this fall's big event.
The Athletics will get in some exercise Monday, and will leave here that afternoon in time to reach their headquarters in New York for dinner.

Manager Mack, in keeping with his usual policy, has declined even to intimate which pitcher he will use in the opening game Tuesday.
Manager Mack to-day received a letter from President Johnson, of the American League, saying Collins and Baker would not be permitted to take part in the world's series if they wrote or permitted the use of their names to newspaper articles.
"I think," said Mack, "that President Johnson's letter was written before he gave out his interview in Chicago on Friday that players could write for newspapers if they proved to the satisfaction of the national commission that they are capable of doing so. However, if the commission decides players must not write under any conditions and players decide not to abide by the ruling, I would be prepared to put a team on the field against New York next Tuesday."
Should such contingency arise as the barring of Baker and Collins, the chances are that Lavan would go to second base, and Oldring, who originally was a third baseman, would take Baker's place.

With Elevens of the Big Colleges

Pennsylvania Defeats La Fayette.
Philadelphia, Pa., October 4.—The University of Pennsylvania football team defeated La Fayette this afternoon in a hard-fought game by the score of 10 to 0.

In the first period Marshall dropped kicked a goal from the forty-yard line for the Quakers. The Red and Blue could not score again until the last period, when they rushed the ball sixty-five yards in seven plays. Koons made forty yards on two splendid forward passes from Minda. Pennsylvania had a much more consistent attack than La Fayette. On forward passes the Quakers completely surpassed their opponents.

Cornell Takes Revenge.
Ithaca, N. Y., October 4.—Cornell took revenge for the football defeat of last season, by defeating Oberlin 37 to 12 here to-day. While the Cornell varsity was on the field, Oberlin was hopelessly outclassed, but in the fourth period the Cornell coaches sent in a team of substitutes, and Oberlin made two touchdowns.

Navy Played to Standstill.
Annapolis, October 4.—The University of Pittsburgh played the Navy to a standstill in the opening game of the season here to-day, the score being 0 to 0. The Navy team has only had a week's practice, and lacked any semblance of team work, and after the second period, showed it was not in condition to cope with the husky team from Pittsburgh.

Yale Falls to Score.
New Haven, Conn., October 4.—The University of Maine appeared for the first time on Yale field to-day and held the Ells to a score of 0 to 0. The game was used as tryout for the Minnesota shift plays, which were taught the Ells by Tom Shevlin this week, and in almost every attempt to gain proved of no avail against the mediocre Maine line.

Army Wins Its Game.
West Point, N. Y., October 4.—The Army eleven inaugurated its season to-day by defeating the team representing Stevens Institute 34 to 0. The visitors held well through the first period, permitting but seven points to be scored, and it looked as if the soldiers had caught a fair start. In the final moments of the game, however, their line crumpled before the smashing of Hecker and Benedict, allowing long runs.

Princeton Rolls Up Big Score.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Princeton, N. J., October 4.—Minus the services of Captain "Hobey" Baker, the Princeton football team rolled up a score of 69 to 0 against Fordham here to-day.

Harvard Defeats Bates.
Cambridge, Mass., October 4.—Harvard defeated Bates in the stadium by a score of 14 to 0 to-day. The stone-wall defense of the Bates line proved a surprise to Harvard, and the first half ended with a 0 to 0 score. In the second half Harvard used the open game in the offense, and the Crimson back field trio, Brickley, Mahan and Hardwick, tore around the Bates ends for long runs.

Richmond Club Forfeits Match.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, D. C., October 4.—The Country Club of Virginia forfeited its scheduled match with Chevy Chase which was to have taken place on the Columbia C. C. links to-day. The Richmond officials notified President Thompson, of the Middle Atlantic Association this morning of their inability to muster a team.

MARYLAND AGGIES DEFEAT SPIDERS

Hoffecker and Shipley seldom failed to gain when given the ball.
Two full teams were used by the Farmers, and in some of the positions three men were sent in. While the play was naturally a little ragged, it showed a great deal of improvement over the previous week. The last half found the ball in the middle of the field, with the Farmers gaining consistently. The line-up:

Teams Play Close Game.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Blackstone, Va., October 4.—Though handicapped by the loss of three first-team men, Blackstone Academy held the strong Chester High School eleven to the score of 14 to 13. A missed goal cost the home team the game.

With Even Break Counts on Giants

BY THOMAS J. LYNCH,
President of National League.
New York, October 4.—I have absolute confidence in McGraw and the Giants. I look for one of the most exciting struggles in history, but I think that the chief honors of baseball will rest with the National League when the last game has been played.

The Giants have shown wonderful consistency throughout the season and a disposition to fight hardest when the breaks were against them. New York's wonderful pitching staff, a very important asset in a series of this nature.
The team won a pennant this season, despite the fact that the players failed to bat up to normal. It would not surprise me at all if the boys should show something in a batting way when they face the Athletics. They usually may be depended upon to rise to emergencies.
McGraw and Mack are both wonderful managers, though I think that McGraw, being on the coaching line, has a slight advantage in a series of this nature. The teams strike me as being very evenly matched. I think New York's superior pitching will offset Philadelphia's better hitting.
The luck of the game always has been a very important figure, and is likely to do so again this time. With an even break, I think New York has the better chance. Let us hope that the issue is decided upon its merits.
